tion of facts, or from a desire for notoriety misuse their gifts and their opportunities and produce incalculable harm which makes one doubt the pleasing sentiment of the poet when he declared that the good men do live after them, the evil dies with them. Jealousy sown between nations dies hard and may be the means of bringing about the direst results, the effects of which will be felt long afterwards, and the scaremonger who seeks to foment differences and disputes between nations and races is not only an enemy to his own country, but to the cause of peace, and therefore to the progress of the world. His is an offence not lightly to be condoned. At the same time distinction must be drawn between the panic-maker and the man with a mission. The world still stands in need of regeneration, it still needs awakening, and the apostle who brings the new light and the revivifying faith will probably meet with little encouragement in propagation of the new gospel or the old gospel in a new form. The panic-maker is at bottom selfish. He is a seeker after notoriety. He is concerned more with the publicity which he will gain than of the message he wishes to give. On the other hand, the man with a mission is willing to sacrifice himself to the cause he has at heart. Take, for instance, LORD ROBERTS, GENERAL BADEN POWELL and ROBERT BLATCHFORD. These three men have not faltered in their proclamation of Britain's military unpreparedness, and at the expense of official betterment or popularity they have decided to speak the truth that is in them. None of these men can be regarded as scaremongers, but if the New York Times is to be believed the REVEREND JOSEPH HENDRICK, brother of the BISHOP HENDRICK of the Philippines Islands, seems to fall under the definition. He visited Japan on his way home from the Philippines, and consequently felt constrained on reaching America to speak with some degree of authority. He is reported in these words: "Buddhism in Japan is a total fake. The only religion those people have is war, with a capital W. They are very anxious to get the Philippines, and it is my honest opinion that if they thought they could get off with it they would fight for to impress it firmly upon the American mind that the Japanese are a treacherous people. I know it to be a fact that even when the American Fleet was anchored in their own waters they were all ready to cut the wires between the United States and the Philippines and seize the islands, but were restrained from so doing by their almost bankrupt condition. About the only available assets the Japs have are their warships. The United States will have to take precautions to retain possession of the islands."

Ordinarily the statement should have received little attention, but as it seems part of an extensive design to change the friendly sentiment which always existed between America and Japan, it cannot be strongly condemned. It is not the utterance of a man of peace. It is little short of criminal, and is certainly not worthy of a Christian. It is to be hoped that the statement will be denied by the rev. gentleman to whom it is attributed, or that the inaccuracies with which it bristles will be exposed. To say that the Japanese were ready to cut the wires, isolate the American fleet in Japanese waters and seize the Philippines, but were restrained from doing so by their impoverished condition, is absurd on the face of it, and shows that the speaker or the newspaper were too anxious to prove the mala fides of Japan. The people and the Press who make such attempts to create suspicion and mistrust are not the friends of their country, and we hope that the sober, sensible judgment of the people of all countries will rise superior to such occasions.

The opening of the new club-house of the Hongkong Corinthian Yacht Club takes place on Saturday afternoon.

The health return for Hongkong showed that last week five cases of communicable disease had been notified—two of plague, both fatal, two of enteric fever, both fatal, and one of diphtheria. All the victims were Chinese.

A fatal accident on the Kowloon-Canton Railway took place on Saturday near Tai Po. While a construction engine was engaged in shunting three ballast trucks and drawing four others, which carried about ten or twelve coals, an obstruction on the rail was encountered, with the result that the first two trucks were telescoped. The men on the latter trucks taking fright jumped off and one falling between the truck and the engine was instantaneously killed when the engine moved and another was severely injured. Whether the obstruction was placed by design on the rail or not is not known.

The return of visitors to the City Hall Library and Museum for the week ending the 19th June, 1910, shows that of non-Chinese there were 398 to the Library and 187 to the Museum, and of Chinese 177 to the former and 234 to the latter. The Library was, therefore, used by 575 persons and the Museum by 2,493.

The sympathy of the many friends of the Hon. Mr. W. Rees Davies, Attorney-General, will be extended to him on learning the sad news of the loss of his wife. Mrs. Davies has been in ill-health for some time, but the end was not expected so soon, and the sad intelligence, which reached the Hon. Mr. Davies yesterday, came as a shock.

A Chinese resident of West Point appeared before Mr. J. R. Wood at the Magistracy yesterday on a charge of cruelly treating his step daughter. His wife bore testimony to the cruelty with which the defendant treated both her and the child, and his Worship sentenced him to one month's imprisonment with hard labour.

Apocryphal Sir Henry May's remark about the topay-turkeydom of things in China, a confirmation of his statement was forthcoming at the Criminal Sessions yesterday. A witness was asked, "How old is your office boy?" and he replied, "Forty." The question presents itself, at what age will that office boy reach manhood's estate?

A boatman appeared before Mr. J. R. Wood at the Magistracy yesterday charged with stealing four towels from the steamer Arratoon. The charge was proved, and the defendant was sent to goal for one month. A woman who was charged with receiving one of these towels was also convicted, and his Worship sent her to prison for seven days.

A Chinese who was arrested in Wellington Street appeared before Mr. J. R. Wood at the Magistracy yesterday on a charge of being in unlawful possession of a jacket and a pair of trousers. As the defendant could not satisfactorily account for these articles being in his possession his Worship ordered him to pay a fine of $10 or go to prison for seven days.

To-day being the feast of St. Louis de Gonzaga, the patron saint of the youth, there will be the first Communion administered to over one hundred boys and girls at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception at 7 o'clock in the morning. His Lordship Bishop Ponsonby will be the officiating prelate, assisted by the very Rev. Fr. De Maria and the Rev. Fathers Spada and André Loung.

We learn from the Harbour Master, Commander Basil Taylor, R.N., that he has arranged to signal the Siberian mail, on being sighted, from Waglan. The first steamer to be signalled in this way was the Okean, which arrived in port on Sunday afternoon. The signal, which is made from the Peak Signal Station and repeated at Blackhead Hill, is letter Y of the International Code, which is hoisted like other mail signals at the masthead. If the mail is carried by a regular mail steamer the Y flag is hoisted under the usual mail signal. If an outside steamer is carrying the Siberian mail the flag Y alone is used. In either case, the usual distance signal is hoisted underneath.

WEDDING IN HONGKONG.

A wedding of much interest to the local American Community was solemnized yesterday at St. John's Cathedral when Miss Ruth Kraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Kraft, of New York City, was married to Mr. Francis Edward McHugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McHugh, of Cleveland, Ohio.

The bride was given away by her father. She was attired in a dress of white applique over white satin with trimming of duchesse-lace belonging to her grandmother, with lace and tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of white lilies. Miss Helen Bolles, her bridesmaid, wore a dress of white organdy and lace over blue silk, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. George V. Hayes was best man and the Rev. W. S. Payne conducted the ceremony. Mr. W. White presiding at the organ.

A reception was subsequently held at the residence of the bride's parents and afterwards the couple left for Macao where the honeymoon is to be spent.

The bride's travelling costume was of light blue silk with white lace coat with picture hat to match.

SUPREME COURT.

Monday, June 20th.

IN CRIMINAL JURISDICTION.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR SIR FRANCIS FICGOTT (CHIEF JUSTICE).

LARCENY BY TRICK.

Chan King Wa was indicted on the charge of stealing $504.40 by a trick. Prisoner pleaded not guilty, and the following jury was empanelled:—W. King (foreman), C. E. Tynan, E. H. Thill, M. A. Figueroa, P. J. West, A. P. Storrie and S. H. Michael.

Mr. M. W. Slade, K.C., instructed by Mr. H. L. Denny, sen., from the office of the Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, and prisoner was not defended.

Mr. Slade, in opening, said the prisoner was charged with obtaining a sum of $504.40 by a means of a trick. The person defrauded was a small trader, who had a stall where he made feather dusters. On April 29th a man named Chan Yat So, whom prosecutor knew by name and by sight, went to the prosecutor and asked if he wanted to change any money. He told him he would get very good exchange by changing Hongkong money into Chinese bank notes, and suggested that he should get it done. Prosecutor counted his money and found that he had $500 odd. With this in his pocket, accompanied by a feli and the man Chan Yat So, he went to the Toy Kien Kaisha some time about five o'clock in the afternoon. Prosecutor followed Chan Yat So into the office, and there they saw the defendant. There was some conversation as to the rate of exchange, and finally it was settled that prosecutor was to receive $565 in Chinese bank notes for the money he had taken with him. He seemed to have demurred about handing over his money without receiving the bank notes, but defendant said, "That is all right. I will give you a bill with which you can go and draw the money," and sent this servant boy with prosecutor. Defendant then wrote out something on a slip of paper, handed it over to the servant boy, and prosecutor went with him to the foot of the stairs the boy said, "Wait a minute, I will go and get the money. But there was a back staircase, and neither boy nor money was seen again. Prosecutor then went back to the Japanese office and found that it was shut up. He then went and searched the Canton boots, and gave information to the police. Finally, prosecutor's feli saw the defendant in a Chinese theatre and had him arrested. The Chinese employed in the Toy Kien Kaisha office said they knew nothing about the defendant, and said he did not know anything about the case. It was for the jury to decide whether they believed the prosecutor's story, or whether they believed this case of mistaken identity.

On the evidence the jury returned a unanimous verdict of guilty, and accused was sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour. EUROPEAN SURVEYOR CHARGED WITH FALSE PRETENCES.

John Grant, an ex-engineer in the Public Works Department, was indicted on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretences. Accused pleaded not guilty, and his case was considered by the same jury who sat in the previous case.

Mr. M. W. Slade, K.C., instructed by Mr. H. L. Denny, sen., from the office of the Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, and accused was defended by Mr. Eldon Potter, instructed by Mr. J. H. Gardiner.

Mr. Slade informed the Court and jury that the defendant was charged with obtaining a ring by false pretences. According to the evidence that would be given for the prosecution, defendant went to the jewellery shop of Wong Lung Hing, 1 Pottinger Street, and after looking at various articles of jewellery, selected a gold and diamond ring, and wishing to obtain credit, when asked who he was, he said his name was Reed, and that he was employed at the Public Works Department. He wrote in the order book kept in the shop for foreign customers as his name and address, "E. B. Reed, surveyor, Public Works Department. One ring valued $85—that was the agreed price—to be exchanged for a chain if wished, $75, guaranteed 18 carat." That referred to a further arrangement he had made that he was to be at liberty to return the ring and get a chain which the jeweller guaranteed to be 18 carat, at the price of $75. Defendant said he would pay the same day he took the ring away, did not return and did not pay. The jeweller made inquiries, and found out that his name was not Reed, although there was a Mr. Reed in the Public Works Department. The defendant had been employed in the Public Works Department of the ring took place on May 28th, when he was no longer employed in that Department. The jury would have to be satisfied before they could convict that the fact defendant gave the jeweller was an inducement to the jeweller to part with his ring. If they were satisfied that the fact of his showing that he had a permanent occupation in the Colony was a cause—not necessary the only cause—but an actively contributing cause of the jeweller letting him take away the ring without paying for it, and that the defendant guilty of the charges which were laid against him. After he had been cautioned, after his arrest.

Mr. Potter—I cannot tell until the sergeant gives evidence, or is in the box, whether or not I want to successfully object to his statements, and it is customary for Counsel for the prosecution not to open statements which may be successfully objected to hereafter.

Mr. Potter—I take the point that this case must fail because, in fact, first, there is no evidence to prove that these goods were obtained by means of any of the false pretences alleged in the indictment. There are two counts: first, that he did pretend he was a surveyor, and

Mr. Slade—The statement made to Sergeant Appleton is this—

Mr. Potter—That is what I object to. His Lordship—I don't quite gather your point.

Mr. Potter—My friend has now arrived at the stage of the alleged statements made by the prisoner to Sergeant Appleton. Those statements may be successfully objected to when Sergeant Appleton goes into the box, and that being so I say the Crown should not open statements that way.

His Lordship—You might include the whole of the evidence.

Mr. Potter—No, an alleged admission is quite a different thing. I have seen a Crown Prosecutor saying, "If this is going to be objected to I will not open it now."

His Lordship—The point is absolutely new to me. I will hear the Attorney-General.

Mr. Slade—I absolutely agree with my friend that where on the face of the depositions there is any possibility of an exception being taken to a statement which has been made by the prisoner, that the custom, I was going to say friendly custom, is not to open it. There is no obligation not to open it, but the ordinary way is not to do so. But where the evidence directly states that the sergeant read the diary over and cautioned the prisoner there is a definite statement. I see no possible grounds for not opening it, and making the case clear.

His Lordship—I must leave it entirely to you.

Mr. Potter—To not the thing short I may say I am entirely in my friend's hands.

Mr. Slade—If I thought there was the slightest possibility of any unfairness being done, I would not think of opening it. Proceeding, Mr. Slade said he wanted to put the case clearly before the jury before coming to the evidence. Sergeant Appleton arrested the defendant on warrant, read the warrant over to him and charged him with having obtained a ring by false pretences. The sergeant showed the signature on the warrant, and the defendant, who had pleaded not guilty, first said, "I know nothing about it." He then said, "Has not Reed paid for it? I got it for him." Later, he asked the sergeant if the matter could not be settled without going into Court, and the latter replied, "No." "The important part of that was 'Has not Reed paid for it? I got it for him.' Counsel would call Mr. Reed, and he would tell the jury that he never authorized the defendant to get a ring for him, or to use his name for the purpose of obtaining a ring.

Evidence, similar to that given at the Police Court, followed, and the case for the prosecution closed.

Defendant was then called to the witness stand. He said he was formerly employed at the Public Works Department, and at the time of his arrest he was staying at the Queen's Hotel. Defendant was a civil engineer, was engaged to a local lady, and intended to go to Canada. Witness went to the Queen's Hotel about the 14th or 15th of last month. His fiancée's mother was staying at the hotel at the time. She had been in the Asylum, and defendant went there to watch her. She did not like being watched, and witness stayed at the hotel under the name of John Smith because he did not want her to know he was staying there.

Is it true that on 28th May you went to the prosecutor's shop and got from him a ring?—It is not true.

Have you ever been in that shop in your life?—No.

Continuing, defendant stated that on the night of his arrest he got back to the hotel between 8.30 and 9 p.m. A detective entered shortly afterwards and said, "John Grant, I believe." Defendant answered in the affirmative, and Sergeant Appleton said, "I have got a warrant for your arrest." Witness asked, "What for?" and he said "Something about a ring that has been bought in the name of Mr. Reed of the Public Works Department." The detective then warned him and witness said, "Reed is at Tai Po. If he took the ring he will pay for it. Can the matter be squared up?" The Sergeant said, "No, I will read the charges to you." He then read the charges, and witness asked the Sergeant if he would accompany him as far as the Hongkong Hotel so that he could telephone to Reed. The Sergeant said that everyone knew him and that it would be better to go to the station, as there was a telephone direct to Tai Po there. When defendant got to the station he was not allowed to use the telephone. Up till the time of his arrest he openly walked the streets of Hongkong.

His Lordship—Were you on intimate terms with Mr. Reed?—Yes.

Have you kept up those terms?—Since I left I have seen very little of him.

How did you know he was at Tai Po?—Other surveyors in the same department told me.

Why were you interested in obtaining that information?—I never asked for it, but when I met the other surveyors they mentioned the fact.

This closed the case for the defence.

Mr. Potter—Before my friend addresses the jury I have an objection to take: that is, that there is no case to be left to the jury on the question of—

His Lordship—Before you take that point, what is the evidence you were going to object to?

Mr. Potter—I had thought, from the form of the proof I had received from the defendant that the Sergeant had put certain questions.

His Lordship—Take your point.

Mr. Potter—I take the point that this case must fail because, in fact, first, there is no evidence to prove that these goods were obtained by means of any of the false pretences alleged in the indictment. There are two counts: first, that he did pretend he was a surveyor, and

Secondly, that he did pretend he was a surveyor, and
